NO TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE REQUIRED

This manual is written entirely for humans. You do not need any coding or technical knowledge to use INKFORGE. Think of INKFORGE as an elegant digital library and typewriter that handles formatting, autosaving, and publishing automatically.

LIBER PRIMUS • CHAPTER I

Welcome to INKFORGE

INKFORGE is an independent digital press and literary publishing sanctuary. It was created to reconcile the timeless dignity of physical bookmaking with the convenience and flexibility of modern digital reading.

Most digital reading platforms treat writing like disposable social media feeds — frantic, noisy, and cluttered with banner ads, popups, and algorithmic engagement traps. INKFORGE does the exact opposite: it offers an uncluttered, dignified digital environment where prose is given room to breathe.

What You Can Do on INKFORGE

- Read Long-Form Essays: Enjoy thoughtfully written essays, monographs, and treatises presented with beautiful book typography, drop caps, and interactive footnotes.
- Write Without Distraction: Compose essays and book chapters in the Scribe Studio, featuring local autosave that guarantees you never lose a sentence.
- Publish with Permanence: Inscribe your work into the public press with one click, generating a clean, shareable reading link you can send to anyone.
- Design Book Covers: Create complete multi-chapter volumes with custom foil-stamped, cloth-bound 3D covers.
- Curate Anthologies: Gather your favorite essays and monographs into thematic reading collections and slipcases.
- Discover Independent Authors: Browse the Resident Authors Directory and explore independent thinkers.

THE INKFORGE PROMISE: PERMANENT WORDS

Whether you are writing on an iPhone on a train or on a laptop in your study, INKFORGE ensures your words are protected locally on your device every few seconds. You never need to worry about a lost paragraph due to an accidental browser close or dropped Wi-Fi signal.

Who INKFORGE is Built For

INKFORGE is designed for writers and readers who care about the craftsmanship of words: essayists, novelists, academics, journalists, and avid readers who prefer stillness over endless scrolling.

LIBER SECUNDUS • CHAPTER II

Getting Started with INKFORGE

Getting started with INKFORGE takes less than thirty seconds. You can explore the entire library and even begin writing without signing in.

1. Opening the Website

Open your web browser on your phone, tablet, or computer and navigate to: https://inkforge-sigma.vercel.app/. You will be greeted by the warm ivory canvas of the homepage.

2. The Homepage & The 3D Book Experience

At the center of the homepage rests the signature INKFORGE Physical Book. This is not a static picture; it is an interactive 3D book object designed to replicate the feel of opening a cloth-bound volume:

STEP 1

Hover or Touch

Move your cursor over the book or tap it lightly on mobile. Notice how the book lifts slightly from the desk surface and a gentle golden sheen sweeps across the cover cloth.

STEP 2

Click to Unfold

Click the cover or press the Enter key. The front cover turns smoothly along its spine, unfolding the volume to reveal the Table of Contents on the right folio and the publisher colophon on the left folio.

STEP 3

Explore the Chapters

Inside the Table of Contents, click any chapter (e.g. Chapter I: Read: The Lead Monograph) to enter that section directly, or swipe sideways on your phone to flip pages.

3. Understanding the Main Navigation Bar

At the top of every screen, the navigation bar provides instant access to all areas:

- Read: Takes you directly into the current featured monograph.
- Discover: Opens the searchable catalog of all published essays and treatises.
- Write: Opens the distraction-free Scribe Studio where you can compose new pieces.
- Collections: Takes you to curated reading anthologies and slipcases.
- Authors: Opens the directory of resident fellows and contributors.
- Theme: Toggles between Cotton Ivory, Bookshop Vellum, and Midnight Buckram papers.

• Account: Opens the sign-in and registration window.

4. Creating Your Author Account

While you can write and read anonymously as a guest, creating an account links your manuscripts to a permanent author profile, syncs your drafts across devices, and allows you to publish publicly under your name.

HOW TO CREATE AN ACCOUNT IN 3 STEPS

1. Click the Account button in the top-right corner.
2. Click 'Need to register? Create author folio' at the bottom of the popup.
3. Enter your email, author username, display name, and password, then click Create Author Account.

You are now logged in! Your initial circle avatar will appear in the top-right corner.

LIBER TERTIUS • CHAPTER III

The Reading Experience

Reading on INKFORGE is designed to feel like reading a masterfully typeset printed book. Every public essay (called a Monograph) provides thoughtful reading controls.

Anatomy of a Reading Folio

When you open any reading page (such as Crafting Systems That Endure), you will notice:

- The Chapter & Issue Kicker: Archival volume details at the very top (e.g., ISSUE IV • AUTUMN 2026).
- The Author Byline: Author name, title, publication date, and estimated reading time.
- Classical Drop Cap: The opening paragraph starts with an oversized decorative capital letter.
- Reading Progress Ribbon: As you scroll down the page, a fine red line at the top of your browser tracks your reading percentage.
- Next Chapter Recommendation: At the bottom of each essay, a card invites you seamlessly into the next chapter.

Customizing Your Reading Comfort

Floating at the edge of your screen (or inside the navigation bar), you have powerful reading controls:

Control	How to Use It	Effect
Paper Tone	Click the Theme button with the palette icon.	Switch between Cotton Ivory (warm morning paper), Bookshop Vellum (warm antiquarian amber), and Midnight Buckram (dark mode for night reading).
Font Scale	Click the Aa text size button.	Cycles between Standard (18px), Large (20px), and Generous (23px) font sizes.
Solitary Mode	Click the Maximize icon.	Hides the navigation header and all toolbars, leaving only the pure, centered essay on screen.
Bookmark	Click the Bookmark icon.	Opens the collection window to save the essay into your private reading lists.
Share Folio	Click the Share icon.	Copies the exact public web link to your clipboard so you can text or email it to friends.

Interactive Footnotes & Citations

Whenever an author provides a reference, you will see a small number in brackets (like [1]). Clicking that number immediately reveals a scholarly sidenote card with the full book citation and author commentary, without forcing you to scroll to the very bottom of the page.

LIBER QUARTUS • CHAPTER IV

Scribe Studio: Writing & Composing

To start writing, click Write in the navigation bar or visit /write. You will enter Scribe Studio, an elegant composition desk built for deep focus.

The Studio Layout

- Title & Subtitle Fields: At the top, type your manuscript title and optional subtitle.
- Formatting Toolbar: Sits just above the canvas and stays pinned as you write.
- The Canvas: A spacious, warm paper writing area styled in literary serif typography.
- Live Metrics Strip: Anchored at the bottom, tracking your words, characters, reading time, and save status in real time.

Using the Formatting Toolbar

The formatting toolbar provides everything you need to craft rich, expressive manuscripts:

Tool Group	Buttons Available	Description & Keyboard Shortcut
Headings & Text	Normal, H1, H2, H3	H1 for main chapter titles, H2 for major sections, H3 for sub-points.
Typography	Font Dropdown, Size Dropdown	Choose between Editorial Serif (Charter), Book Garamond, Modern Sans, or Monospace, and customize scale from 16px to 22px.
Inline Formatting	Bold, Italic, Underline, Strike, Code, Highlight	Standard shortcuts: Cmd+B (Bold), Cmd+I (Italic), Cmd+U (Underline), Cmd+E (Inline code), Cmd+Shift+H (Highlight).
Structure	Bullet List, Number List, Quote, Code Block, Divider	Create lists, prominent pullquote callouts, formatted code blocks, and horizontal pause rules.
Insert Popover	Insert Link, Image, Table	Embed hyperlinks (Cmd+K), insert illustration images with scholarly captions, or create 3-column structured comparative tables.
History	Undo, Redo	Step backward and forward through your edits (Cmd+Z and Cmd+Shift+Z).

Understanding Your Editorial Rhythm

At the bottom of the studio, INKFORGE classifies your manuscript's volume automatically:

- Blank Leaf: 0 words (a fresh, clean page).
- Epigram / Sketch: 1 to 299 words (brief remarks, poems, vignettes).
- Critical Essay: 300 to 799 words (focused analytical essays).
- Treatise: 800 to 1,799 words (thorough long-form explorations).
- Extended Monograph: 1,800+ words (complete chapters and comprehensive studies).

TWO MODES FOR PURE FOCUS

• Solitary Focus Mode (Maximize Icon): Hides the entire header and surrounding distractions, giving you a quiet, full-screen canvas.
• Proof Mode (Eye Icon): Renders your piece with drop caps, margins, and finished typography so you can proofread exactly what your audience will see before publishing.

LIBER QUINTUS • CHAPTER V

Protecting Your Work: Autosave & Revisions

Writers often fear losing work due to a dead laptop battery, a closed browser tab, or a lost internet connection. INKFORGE was engineered around the principle that no author should ever lose a single syllable.

How Autosave Works

Whenever you pause typing for more than 1.5 seconds, INKFORGE automatically saves your work. You can also press Cmd+S (or Ctrl+S) at any time to save immediately.

Look at the save status badge at the top-right and bottom of Scribe Studio:

- Preserving to ledger...: Actively syncing your latest sentences.
- Archived (hh:mm:ss): Your changes are safely committed and confirmed.
- Unsaved Changes: Edits made within the last two seconds waiting to flush.
- Buffered in Local Sanctuary: Saved safely on your device even if you are offline.

What Happens if Your Connection Drops?

If you lose Wi-Fi or accidentally close your browser, INKFORGE saves your prose in your browser's local memory. When you reopen the site or log back in, a top banner alerts you:

> LOCAL DRAFTS DETECTED
> 'Local Draft(s) Detected in this Browser — Would you like to sync your legacy local drafts into your permanent authenticated author ledger?'
> Simply click Sync to Ledger, and all your offline writing will instantly upload to your account.

Reviewing Previous Revisions & Restoring

Every time your document is saved, INKFORGE preserves a snapshot in your document's historical ledger:

STEP 1

Open Revisions Drawer

Click the clock-shaped Revisions button in the top action bar of Scribe Studio.

STEP 2

Review Historical Snapshots

A panel slides out on the right showing a chronological list of versions (e.g. Version 3 • 1,240 words • 15 minutes ago). Click any version to inspect its excerpt and word count.

STEP 3

Restore with One Click

Click Restore Revision. Your editor will immediately roll back to that exact version, creating a brand new snapshot so you never lose your current text either.

Handling Version Conflicts (409 Conflict)

If you edit the same manuscript in two different browser tabs at the same time, INKFORGE protects you from accidentally overwriting one tab with another. An oxblood banner will appear offering three clear choices:

- Keep My Changes (Overwrite): Saves the text in your current active tab.
- Load Server Version: Discards current tab edits and reloads the newer version saved elsewhere.
- Copy Local Prose: Copies your current tab's text to your clipboard so you can manually copy-paste pieces together.

LIBER SEXTUS • CHAPTER VI

Publishing Your Writing

When your essay or story is ready for readers, publishing takes a single click. There are no complicated configurations, hosting fees, or approval queues.

The Publishing Ceremony

STEP 1

Review in Proof Mode

Before publishing, click the Proof Mode (eye icon) button in Scribe Studio to review your typography and drop caps exactly as your readers will see them.

Click Publish

In the top-right action bar, click the red Publish button. INKFORGE validates your title, assigns a clean web address slug, and transitions your piece from a private draft into a published monograph.

STEP 3

The Celebration Window

A celebration window appears confirming: 'Monograph Successfully Inscribed into INKFORGE Press'. It displays your permanent reading link (e.g. https://inkforge-sigma.vercel.app/read/your-title) and provides a Copy Link button and an Open Public Folio button.

WHAT CHANGES ONCE YOU PUBLISH?

- Your monograph is now accessible to anyone with the link.
- It appears in the public Discover catalog.
- It appears on your public Author Folio profile.
- It receives beautiful sharing cards when posted on social media or text messages.

How to Unpublish (Revert to Private Draft)

If you ever wish to remove a piece from public view or revise it privately, unpublishing is just as simple:

1. Open the published piece in Scribe Studio.
2. Look at the top action bar where the Publish button was; it now displays a lock icon with the label Unpublish.
3. Click Unpublish and confirm the prompt.
4. Your piece immediately returns to a private draft. Public visitors to the URL will now see a 404 Folio Not Found page.

Managing All Your Work in the Ledger (/posts)

Click your user avatar and select My Drafts & Ledger (or visit /posts). This is your author dashboard where you can see all your manuscripts organized by filter tabs:

- ALL: Every work you have ever started.
- DRAFT: Your private, unpublished working files.
- IN_REVIEW: Pieces marked for editorial review.
- SCHEDULED: Pieces set for future release dates.
- PUBLISHED: Live monographs currently available to the public.

LIBER SEPTIMUS • CHAPTER VII

Discovering Stories & Authors

INKFORGE features a rich literary catalog designed for readers who want to browse thoughtful work.

The Literary Gazetteer (/discover)

Click Discover in the main navigation. The Gazetteer presents the complete library of published monographs with powerful, easy-to-use search and filtering tools:

- Live Keyword Search: Type any topic, keyword, or author name in the search bar. The list filters instantly.
- Thematic Topic Chips: Click SYSTEMS CRAFT, LITERARY ECOLOGY, or DIGITAL THEORY to filter by category.
- Reading Time Filter: Looking for something quick for your subway commute? Use the reading time slider to find pieces under 5 minutes, or deep treatises over 15 minutes.
- Bookmarking Directly: Every story card features a bookmark icon. Click it to add the piece to your reading collections without leaving the page.

EXPLORING THE RESIDENT AUTHORS DIRECTORY

Click Authors in the navigation bar to enter The Collegium (/authors). Here you can see all registered authors, read their biographies, discover their scholarly affiliations, and click their names to open their complete bibliography of published works.

Individual Author Folios (/authors/[username])

Clicking on any author's byline (e.g. Elena Rostova or Marcus Chen) opens their dedicated Author Folio page. On this page you can view:

- Their author avatar circle and verified imprint badge.
- Their personal biography and institutional affiliation.
- Their external website link (if provided).
- A complete list of all monographs they have published on INKFORGE, with reading times and publication dates.

LIBER OCTAVUS • CHAPTER VIII

Thematic Collections & Anthologies

A Collection is like a custom bookshelf or curated anthology slipcase. You can gather several related essays together, arrange them into an intentional reading sequence, and share the entire collection with others.

How to Create a New Collection

STEP 1

Visit Collections

Click Collections in the navigation bar or visit /collections.

STEP 2

Open Creation Window

Select the My Private Folios tab and click the + New Collection button.

STEP 3

Name & Describe Your Anthology

Give your collection a title (e.g. Studies in Modern Typography), add an editorial description, and choose whether it should be Public (visible to all readers) or Private (visible only to you).

Adding Stories to a Collection

Whenever you are reading an essay on /read/[slug] or browsing cards on /discover:

1. Click the Bookmark icon.
2. A popup window appears listing all your collections.
3. Click the checkbox next to the collection you want to add it to.
4. The story is instantly saved into that collection!

PUBLIC ANTHOLOGIES VS. PRIVATE FOLIOS

• Public Anthologies: Curated collections visible to any visitor in the public catalog. Great for book clubs, university syllabi, or publication series.
• Private Folios: Personal reading lists and research bookmarks visible only to your logged-in account.

LIBER NONUS • CHAPTER IX

Complete Book Creation & Cover Studio

Beyond individual essays, INKFORGE allows you to create complete, multi-chapter book volumes featuring cloth-bound covers, custom foil stamping, and 3D previewing.

The 3-Step Book Creation Wizard (/books/create)

To begin creating a complete volume, visit /books/create or click 'Create Volume Slipcase' from your ledger dashboard:

STEP STEP 1

Volume Identity & Genre

Enter your book title, subtitle, author byline, and description. Select a genre preset (Biography, Philosophy, Literary Fiction, Technology & Craft, Poetry, etc.) and mood preset (Contemplative, Urgency, Lyrical, Archival).

STEP STEP 2

Visual Brief & Symbolic Concepts

Click Generate Concepts. INKFORGE analyzes your book's themes and extracts symbolic visual motifs, color palettes, and typographic directions. Choose your preferred concept card.

STEP STEP 3

Cover Studio & 3D Preview

Enter the Cover Studio! Here you can customize cover cloth materials (linen, buckram, vellum), choose foil stamping finishes (gold foil, silver foil, debossed blind stamp), and watch the 3D Physical Book render your cover in real time.

The Volume Workspace (/books/[id])

Once your book is saved, you enter its dedicated Volume Workspace at /books/[id]:

- The Interactive 3D Volume: Click the book to unfold it and inspect its cover art from any angle.
- Chapter Outline: View the table of contents and chapter sequence for your book.
- Write in Studio: Click 'Write in Scribe Studio' to jump straight into composing chapters for this specific book.
- Cover Versions: Switch between different cover versions you have designed.

LIBER DECIMUS • CHAPTER X

Author Profile & Personalization

Your author presence on INKFORGE is your public calling card in the independent press. You have complete control over how your credentials appear.

Managing Your Profile (/profile)

Click your user avatar in the top-right corner and select Edit Author Profile (or visit /profile):

- Display Name: The pen name or official name that appears on all your published monographs.
- Author Username: Your unique handle (e.g. elena-rostova) that defines your public profile address at /authors/elena-rostova.
- Author Biography: A short paragraph describing your background, research interests, or artistic focus.
- Location: Your city, country, or institutional affiliation (e.g. Oxford, UK).
- Personal Website: A link to your external personal site, blog, or university faculty page.

THE VERIFIED IMPRINT BADGE

INKFORGE provides a green Verified Imprint badge to authors who verify their email address. This confirms to readers that your monograph was published by an authentic, verified contributor. If you see an amber Unverified tag in your account menu, click Resend Link to verify your email.

Personalizing Your Theme Preference

Your reading theme preference (Cotton Ivory, Bookshop Vellum, or Midnight Buckram) is saved automatically in your browser. Whenever you revisit INKFORGE, the site will remember your favorite paper tone.
